Four Winds Latest News

Dear Marg,

Have you made your October plans yet? Join us over the coming weeks at the Four Winds Windsong Pavilion for beautiful music, local stories and a laugh or two over a glass of wine.

Tickets are selling fast for the month ahead so book in soon!

This Sunday enjoy an afternoon of wind & strings with Acacia Quartet and Arcadia Quintet. Sunday 12 October, come and share in the ‘Olga Masters Festival - Sunday at Four Winds’ event, a day of intricate story-telling, sensational music and a theatrical radio play.
Then, Sunday 26 October, Zephyrs presents - The Alex Stuart Quintet.

This Sunday 28 September, 3pm! Join Acacia Quartet and Arcadia Quintet for an afternoon of beautiful winds and strings in the Windsong Pavilion.

Acacia Quartet, ARIA and Art Music Awards nominees and favourite tutors at South Coast Music Camp will be joined by ANAM Fellows, Arcadia Quintet, who are back with Four Winds for a two-week residency. Getting Arcadia here to work with Geoffrey Badger’s orchestra camp is core to what Four Winds is about, to encourage music making with high quality musicians playing and learning together. Please support these young artists and help them earn some income while they are here.

Adults $15, 18 and under $5. Gates open at 2pm, Doors open at 2:45pm, Performance starts at 3pm. Wine available to purchase before the concert and during the interval. Cash bar. Tickets can be purchased from www.fourwinds.com.au or call 02-6493 3414.
Do you play the Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon or Horn? Sign up for a private tutoring session with one of the Arcadia Quintet artists. They will be carrying out private tuition sessions. To book in talk to them at the South Coast Music Camp or call Kiran on 0420 740 274. $30 per half hour.

Olga Masters Festival:
10.30am-3.30pm, Sunday 12 October, Windsong Pavilion

The Olga Masters Festival - Sunday at Four Winds event will be a day of swinging music of the depression era, discussions on Olga’s life and works, a radio play read by Olga’s daughters, Deb and Sue Masters, with live sound effects, all entwined to give a sensual impression of Olga Master’s work. You may not know her work, and it’s good news that her stories are being republished so we can enjoy her keen eye of daily life in our region where she grew up.
Enjoy musical performance by the charismatic jazz sensation Hetty Kate, recently part of ‘A Journey Through Jazz’ with James Morrison and the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra. Also performing are local jazz group, The Jazz Pack, and, percussionist extraordinaire, David Hewitt.

Six of Olga’s distinguished children are ‘Coming Home’ and we welcome you to share in an intimate reunion and celebration of the life of their Mother and how her literary career inspired their pathways into literature, media and story telling in the public life. “My children are my finest books”, said Olga.

You may already know them? Roy Masters is a well-known rugby league coach and commentator. Ian Masters hosts the American radio program Background Briefing. Quentin Masters is a successful film director. Chris Masters is a highly award investigative journalist and writer who worked with Four Corners for 25 years. Sue Masters has been named one of the 75 most powerful people in Australian television and is now the Executive Producer of Drama at SBS. Sue brought us Sea Change, Secret Life of Us and Brides of Christ. Deb Masters works as an ABC producer and her previous work includes Witness and The 7:30 Report.
Don’t miss out on this dream day of performance and intimate storytelling as part of the ‘Coming Home’ Olga Masters Festival celebrating the life of Olga Masters (born Pambula 1919).

Tickets can be purchased from www.fourwinds.com.au or call 6493 3414. Seats for ‘Sunday at Four Winds’ are limited and advanced bookings essential. Adult $65, Pensioners $55. Includes a scrumptious bowl of soup and local artisan bread and entitles you to free entry to the afternoon panel discussions on Saturday 11th October at the Cobargo Showground Pavilion.
